Preserving good health and minimizing the risk of chronic diseases is a top priority for many people around the world. It is also a matter of concern for current and soon-to-be students in high school who wish to prepare for the future. The World Health Organization (WHO) estimates that cardiovascular diseases (CVDs) account for over 40% of all deaths globally and estimates suggest that the disease will become one of the leading causes of death worldwide. The following article will provide you with information about CVDs and how to reduce your risk of developing these illnesses. It will also provide you with tips on eating healthy, exercising regularly, and reducing stress in order to maximize your chance of living a long and healthy life.

After your introduction, you will continue to list facts about CVDs and how to reduce your risk of developing the disease. Example facts that you should include are shown below: You will then conclude your blog post with a summary of what you have just written above. Following the summary, you may add a list of references including books, articles, and other resources that you used when writing your assignment. For each resource listed in your assignment, provide the following information: type (i.e., book), author(s), title (italicised), publisher (italicised), publication date (in parentheses; if available; mm/yyyy format), and location (endnote). If you use the following article for your references, please cite it correctly: Burger, A. J., & Saladino, R. C. (2014).
